

Submit to TINT JOURNAL

What Tint Journal Is All About

Tint is the world's first online literary journal for ESL (English as a Second or non-native Language) writers.

In our biannual literary issues, we publish short stories, creative nonfiction, flash fiction, flash nonfiction, and poetry created in English as the writer's second or non-native language.

We do not publish translations.

Our Guidelines

We are looking for previously unpublished pieces by writers whose first language is not English.

Please only submit within an open call and only one piece per category at a time.

Short story and creative nonfiction submissions have to be between 1,000 and 4,000 words. Flash submissions are not allowed to exceed 800 words. For poetry, please submit one poem at a time. One poem is not allowed to exceed four A4 pages in length.

Tint's Title Page Request

Please provide your submission with a title page indicating your

- name
- first language(s)
- second or foreign language(s)
- nationality (or country/region that you associate yourself with)
- submitted category (fiction, nonfiction, flash fiction, flash nonfiction, or poetry)
- title of piece
- email address
- day of submission

Please name your doc, docx or pdf file [Category]_[Last Name]_[Title].

Open Call:
Oct 11 –
Nov 30,
2021
midnight (CET)

No submission fee!

At Tint, we are strictly against pay-to-get-published! Work is always free to submit, and if our crowdfunding campaign in November succeeds, we will be able to reimburse you in case your text is chosen for publication.

If you enjoy our journal and want to support what we do, we are more than grateful for donations. You can find out more at tintjournal.com/support-us.
